Tolstoy's presentation of death calls to mind the fact that his brother Nicholas had a similar experience just before his death. Nine hours before he died he had a presentation of his end and, asking to be undressed, went to bed and succumbed soon after.

A municipal councilor of Paris has introduced a proposal to tax all cats in the city. The proposal has not met with popular approval. A large number of women who own cats have written to him threatening to make things unpleasant for him if he persists.

SOCIETY HAPPENINGS.

On Wednesday two bridge parties claimed the attention of a large number. At "The Elms" Miss Forsythe had five tables. The players included Mrs. George H. Watson, Emile P. Franklin, James G. Marshall, Henry F. Taylor, Robert C. Walsh, E. L. Leach, John R. Emery, E. Blair Sutphen, Stanley M. Howe, Elphaiet N. Anable, James Cummings Vail, and the Misses Bryce, Smith and Walker. Mrs. Gilbert McLaughlin and Miss Donachie poured tea.

Miss Margaret Brinley's guests were her young friends, who are quite as keen about the game as the older devotees, and were the Misses Marjorie Pierson, Leslie Hill, Alice Fanshawe, Julia Delmonico, Marie Letchford, Helen Humphreys, Katherine Ames, Katherine Clarke, Bertha Walker, Ruth Taylor, Helen Caldwell, Evelyn Harrison and Aolita Hazeltine. Mrs. John K. Howell and Mrs. Frederick W. Ford joined the party at the hour for tea.

Miss Ailsa MacColl entertained a few friends informally for tea in the afternoon. Among the guests were the Misses Phyllis McVickar, Elizabeth McVickar, Anita Hazeltine, Leslie Hill and Ruth Fiske.

Mrs. Gordon E. Sherman was the hostess for one of the most attractive bridge parties which have been given this season, the arrangement of the card tables was particularly successful, and the serving of tea in the hall made an informal gathering and a little chat where other topics than the game might be indulged in. Among the guests were Mesdames Merrell, Hazeltine, H. G. Watson, Gordon, Franklin, Emery, Slade, Hoy, Clarke, Laquer, Anable, Letchford, Watson, the Misses Handow, Smith, Forsythe and Lampell. The tea tables were presided over by Miss Louise Keasbey and Miss Helen Shelton.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Thebaud entertained informally at dinner on Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph H. Kissel, Miss Bryce and George E. Dadmun enjoyed the delightful hospitality which is always to be found at "Beauregard."

John C. Williams and Miss Carolyn Williams went to Washington on Saturday, for various entertainments have been arranged for them.

The engagement of Miss Doris Dick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Dick and Horace Havemeyer is announced. Miss Dick has many friends in Morristown and has frequently been the guest of Miss Alice Dickson.

Miss Eleanor Marshall has returned from New York where she has been one of the younger girls for whom dances have been given.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus C. Downing, formerly of Morristown, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Vera, and William W. Finley, Jr., at Baltimore, on December 23rd.

Miss Mabel Clark entertained at "Fairaces" over New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. Emilus Outerbridge are at St. Moritz, Switzerland, and later they go to the Riviera.

A recent purchase of the Morris farm, on New Vernon road by Mrs. Alexander H. Tiers, assures the return to Morristown, in the spring, of Mr. and Mrs. John Mayer, Jr., for whom extensive improvements to the house will be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Freeman are spending the winter in New York as usual at their apartments, 49th street and Madison avenue, their residence here being closed for the winter.

The last Junior dance of the series was given at the Morris County Golf club on Saturday.

His Royal Highness Prince Freydon, of Persia: His Excellency Yon-souf Zia Pacha, Ambassador from Turkey at Washington; and Zarah Bey Nubar, of Cairo, were recent guests at dinner of Consul-General Hagazoun Hovanes Topakyan at "Persian Court," his home at Morris Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Bliss have closed the villa "Wendover" and are at the Plaza hotel, New York, for the winter.

Miss Gladys F. Waterbury, of this town, will be a bridesmaid, and Alfred May, also a Morristonian, an usher at the wedding on Wednesday next of Miss Ethel Letroy de Koven and Hans Kristine Hudson in Grace church, New York.

There is to be bridge whist played at the Morris County Golf club every Tuesday until Lent, beginning this week. The card playing will begin at three o'clock and tea will be served at five o'clock.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Frances De Koven Dickey, daughter of the late Hugh T. Dickey, to Harold S. Freeman, son of Samuel Freeman, of this town and president of the Morristown Trust Co. No date has been set for the wedding, but it will probably be held in the early spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Moran have closed "Hascumb," their country home on Mendham mountain, and are enjoying a trip through Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtis James have been to Newport to inspect the new villa they are building there.

$300 yearly and that of the town electrician from $150 to $200 per year.

Resolutions commending the work of the track elevation commission, expressing the confidence of the board in the commission and requesting its members to continue their labors were passed.

Other resolutions authorizing Town Counsel Reed to confer with the counsel for the sewer commission over certain legal matters in order that the commission might soon be relieved of further duty were passed.

An application was received from residents of Elliott street asking that street lamps be installed on that thoroughfare and on motion of Alderman Sturges four lights were ordered placed on the street.

Police Justice Isaac R. Pierson's report for the month of December was as follows:—

Thirty-eight cases were brought in to court; thirty-seven convicted and one discharged. Those convicted were fined a total of $224.70, including costs. Seven paid upon conviction, twenty-seven committed to jail in default, two paroled in custody and one confined in lock-up. The amount paid in cash was $46.20; cancelled by time served in jail, $81.60; remitted, $4.00; pending from persons in custody, $92.90. Fees due the justice are $37.70 and there was a balance for the month of $6.50.

Acting Street Commissioner Frapwell reported returning to the manufacturers sewer cleaning machinery as it was not in good order. Sixteen permits for sewer connections were granted during the month, making the total number 1,035.

An inventory of the equipment and supplies of the street department aggregated $5,077.86 in value and of the sewer department $206.80.

Ordinances regulating the police department and providing for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July, received as a heritage from the board of aldermen of last year were referred to the ordinance committee.

OBITUARY.

Caldwell Fraser.

Funeral services of Caldwell Fraser, who died at his home on Mills street, Sunday after a long illness, were held Tuesday afternoon at his late residence and interment was in Woodlawn cemetery, in New York.

Mr. Fraser was born in Scotland seventy-five years ago and came to this country when a young man. He was engaged in the plumbing business in New York for many years, retiring from active business life fifteen years ago. A few years previous he came to Morristown and had been a resident here since. While the sewer system was being installed he was employed by the town as an inspector.

Mr. Fraser is survived by his widow Mrs. Eliza Fraser, and four children. They are William Fraser, of New York; Mrs. Edward Reeves and Miss Anna Fraser, of this town, and Mrs. George Hubert, of New York.

PHILIP A. WELSH.

After suffering for two years from heart trouble Philip A. Welsh died at No. 73 Morris street early Sunday January 1. He was eighty-three years old.

Mr. Welsh retired from active business several years ago after conducting a livery. He divided his estate between his four children, Overseer of the Poor James E. Welsh, Mrs. Charles M. Drake, Mrs. Ida Bamberger, of Morristown, and Mrs. Ira P. Salmon, of East Orange.

He was a descendant of the early settlers of the Welsh family of German Valley and had been a resident of Morristown for many years.

Besides his children Mr. Welsh is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Adeline Rose, of Bonton; Mrs. Nathan Dilts, of Washington; and Mrs. James Hazen, of Morristown.

Mrs. Nancy G. Pierson.

Mrs. Nancy G. Pierson, widow of the late Lewis Pierson, Jr., died Saturday morning at her home at 149 South street, after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Pierson was an old resident of this city, having lived at her late home for fifty years. She was the daughter of the late John and Abigail A. Johnson.

A son, L. E. Pierson, and three daughters, Mrs. William DeCamp Johnson, Mrs. Joseph H. VanDoren and Miss E. A. Pierson, all of this town, survive her.

MRS. W. B. MASON.

Dr. Edwin O. Peck is mourning the death of his sister, Mrs. W. B. Mason, who, with her husband, was a former resident of Morristown. Mr. Mason was a clergyman and occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church on several occasions. He was engaged in the ministry in Monmouth county.

MRS. CATHERINE GRIFFEN.

Mrs. Catherine Griffen, widow of the late Patrick Griffen, died Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Alexander on Catherine lane, where she boarded. She was a native of County Kildare, Ireland. Mrs. Griffen had been ill for only a few days.
